

2021: Kara Swisher

Kara Swisher received the Moses Berkman Memorial Journalism Award in recognition of her exceptional career as the country's most highly respected journalist covering the tech industry and its meteoric success from the 1990s to today.

Currently, Swisher is contributing editor at New York Magazine, following her time as an opinion writer for the New York Times, which also hosts her podcast Sway. Her podcast included far-ranging interviews with guests including Apple CEO Tim Cook, Microsoft co-founder Bill Gates, Nancy Pelosi, and more. Kara is -host of the podcast Pivot. Swisher has reported on big tech for the Wall Street Journal and the Washington Post, as well as co-founding the All Things Digital conference and the Redo website. Her books include aol.com: How Steve Case Beat Bill Gates, Nailed the Netheads and Made Millions in the War for the Web, and There Must Be a Pony in Here Somewhere: The AOL Time Warner Debacle and the Quest for a Digital Future. Kara Swisher's public lecture, "Tech Is So Poor, All It Has Is Money" was held October 21, 2021.